Kennedy Center Youths Need Your Assistance

by Morton Danuff

Ten years ago a young mother, Evelyn Kennedy addressed a Bridgeport school budget meeting. She stated bluntly that she was the mother of a mentally retarded child, and asked whether something could be done to provide facilities at school for her child and others like her child.

The eventual result of this mother's plea was the public's realization that the mentally retarded child can be an asset to the community, rather than a liability, and a source of satisfaction to the parents, rather than frustration and shame.

Shortly after her appearance at the school budget meeting, Mrs. Kennedy met with 12 other parents of mentally retarded children, and their crusade began.

A study by the Connecticut State Legislature revealed that there was an estimated 40,000 mentally retarded children and adults in the State of Connecticut. The need for a center for these people was critical. They had to have a place where they would be accepted, helped and taught, if possible, to become independent citizens.

Six years ago, a center for retarded children, considered impossible four years earlier, became a reality. The people of the Bridgeport area could be justifiably proud of this benevolent achievement.

The Scribe has taken up the crusade for funds to help the Center on the University Campus. During the past four years they have conducted fund raising drives. In this short period of time, $1,000 has been raised.

In 1959 Circle K received an award from the Scribe for giving the largest single group contribution to the drive. PDR and SOS collected funds last year and raised $150.

Phi Delta Rho and Sigma Omicron Sigma will again co-sponsor the Kennedy Fund Drive this year. Collections will be taken in Alumni Hall.

The activities at the Center consist of a Pre-School Day Care Program, for children who will enter public school classes. There is a Junior Day Care Program, for school-age children who cannot meet the requirements of the public school system, but who may be trained to do so. A senior Day Care Program is conducted for teenagers and adults to improve their ability to make themselves understood, thereby enhancing their chances of securing and holding jobs.

There is a regular Boy Scout, Girl Scout and Explorer Scout troop at the center. These give the children an additional opportunity to participate in group activities. Craft workshops prepare pre-teen and teen-age boys for future employment. Home economics instruction prepares the girls for a much fuller life.

To round out the activities of the mentally retarded who are fortunate enough to be able to attend the Kennedy Center, there are social get-togethers for the teenagers and adults who are either employed or who attend school during the day. In addition, there are weekly recreation sessions offering games, sports, singing and just plain fun for children attending "trainable" classes.

There is also a diagnostic clinic at the center. Before any program is developed for any child or adult who is known to be, or suspected of being, mentally retarded, that individual must first be examined in the clinic. In addition, a psychiatric social worker conducts a group therapy program for the parents.

The training center has placed a number of their trainees in various industries. The training unit now supplies workers (part-time, once-a-week, or full-time) for many jobs such as assembling, collating and packaging projects that most employers find impracticable to give to their own employees.

The center has come a long way since that young Bridgeport mother made her plea ten years ago. It has proved to be the guiding light that the mentally retarded children and their parents needed to lead them through a life filled with meaning and purpose, rather than an existence of endless suffering and perpetual humiliation.

Simpson Wins NAM Award

David L. Simpson, Jr., a junior majoring in history at the University has been awarded the National Association of Manufacturers President's Annual Scholarship Award for 1960 valued at $1,000.

Rudolph F. Bannow, president of the NAM will officially present the award at the annual meeting of the NAM in New York, Dec. 6-9. Bannow is a member of the Board of Trustees.

One half of the $1,000 award is to be applied to Simpson's tuition this year and the other half in his senior year. An unrestricted gift of $1,000 will also be made to the University by the NAM, Bannow reported.

Simpson is active in student affairs, and is vice president of the junior class, a member of Student Council, vice president of the political Relations Forum, a member of the Debating Club, the National Student Association and corresponding secretary of Theta Sigma fraternity.

He is chairman of the constitution and ethics committees of Student Council. During Freshman Week activities he was chairman of the grounds and security and beanie court committees.

Active in politics, he is president of the Young Republicans club on campus and organized students to greet vice pres. Richard M. Nixon when he visited Bridgeport during the presidential campaign.

Simpson was the recipient of the debating club scholarship in his sophomore year and was the recipient of the Carlson Junior Achievement scholarship in his freshman year.

Students Routed By Bomb Scare

An anonymous phone call to the police touched off a bomb scare Tuesday night, and routed the 450 residents of the New Men's Dorms into the street.

Shortly after 10 p.m. police and firemen arrived at the scene, and evacuated the dorm in three minutes. While students stood outside, some dressed only in bathrobes, a double-check of all the rooms was effected, but nothing resembling a bomb was found.

During the search, which lasted less than a half-hour, a spirited group of instigators attempted to kick off a raid on Schiott Hall, a girls' dorm across the street. An estimated 50 students approached the dorm with shouted support from hundreds standing around undecided, but dispersed when Chief Elmer Maher and an assistant appeared on the scene armed with flashlights.

Police declined to say whether or not the call was the work of a prankster, and urged students to search their personal belongings for anything that looks unfamiliar. Lieutenant John Leahy stated that the normal procedure in a case of this sort is to notify the F.B.I. if they are interested, and, if a bomb is found, to send a demolition man to either detonate it harmlessly or remove it to a safe place.

The only immediate repercussions was the theft of two of the firemen's helmets off one of the trucks. One has been recovered.

Thunder strikes the Klein tomorrow night as "The Peacock Season," Campus Thunder's 14th offering, opens a three night stand, Dec. 2, 3, and 5.

Summer in the early 1900's is the setting, and the action centers around "Heavenly Daze" Schermerhorn, played by Beverly Kaufman, a dance hall girl turned society matron who invades the 'Peacock Pen' at famed Tuxedo Park.

Staged by writer-director Albert Dickason, Campus Thunder '61 features the longest single production number in its history. "The Peacock Season," title number of the show, runs nearly a half hour as Tuxedo Park's high society kicks up its heels in a series of competitive parties. Songs number 23 in all, written by William Pura, Ed Marfiak, Steve Martin, Harry Ahlberg and Sime Neary. Judy Blair directs the choreography.

A company of nearly 100, featuring Bobby Loeffler, Eddie Frackman, Doris Carroll, John Keramis and Albert Balash make up the cast.

Back for another show is Thunder's inimitable genie, played by Ken Byers, who will kick off the show. Also making a return appearance will be Fifi, played by New England beauty John Scully and her company of scene-stealing Thunderettes; Gordon Cassano, Ray Cordani, Louis

Haber, Peter Hertz, Joe Loconto, Bob Mayer, Paul Rashap and Bob Verna.

Production numbers to watch for are the half-hour "Peacock Season," featuring the entire company, "The Four Hundred Ball," the show's final number, and "CinderAlice," a fantasy featuring Cindy Gelbard as the Fairy Godmother.

The girls of the company are: Sandra Berg, Roberta D'Aiuto, Clara Dostal, Doris Fink, Cynthia Gelbard, Linda Giovanello, Debbie Hartley, Joy Kroin, Dodi Mathias, Roberta Newman, Sally Saffo, Arlene Susser, Phyllis Tannenbaum, and Gale Werman.

Dancers are Jack Brenton, Elizabeth Guzzi, Daryl Glouinger, Carole Jean Pursell and Phyllis Wall.

Technical director for Thunder '61 is Gerald Greenstein. John Reed is the stage manager, and Doris Newman the business manager. Adeline Meath is the production accompanist, and Maj Neary is in charge of costumes.

13 Students Selected For 'Who's Who' List

Thirteen students were selected by the Student Council to represent the University in "Who's Who in American Colleges." The candidates received recognition at yesterday's Council convocation.

The students selected for the honor include: Dennis Bileca, Joan Flynn, Thomas Gorman, John Majesko, Elliot Mininberg, Frank Mizak, Philip Organ, Stanley Pollack, Elizabeth Richens, Joseph Trinidad, Gordon Wagner, Jack Wells and Edmund Wolf.

Dennis Bileca is a senior majoring in psychology. He has a 3.27 Q.P.R. and his activities include the Eastern Orthodox Society, Psychology Society, OSR fraternity, Circle K (president), and Arts Festival Week.

Joan Flynn is a senior majoring in chemistry. She has a 3.5 Q.P.R. and has performed in Campus Thunder, is corresponding secretary of Student Council, and is a member of the Freshman Week Committee and the Chess Club.

She has also received recognition by receiving the outstanding chemistry award of 1960 and the freshman chemistry award in 1958.

Thomas F. Gorman, is a senior majoring in accounting. He has a 3.47 Q.P.R. and is a member of Beta Alpha accounting fraternity, American Accounting Association, OSR fraternity and is the business college representative to Student Council.

John Majesko is a senior majoring in accounting. He has a 3.47 Q.P.R. and is a member of Beta Alpha accounting fraternity, American Accounting Association, OSR fraternity and is the business college representative to Student Council.

Freshmen Elect Marsak President

In a record vote, Mick Marsak, majoring in business administration, was recently elected president of the freshman class.

There were 343 votes cast representing one third of the freshmen. Marsak received 248 votes, the Student Council announced.

Herb Rippe was elected vice-president with 190; Elaine Rubin, secretary with 148; Sue Horner, treasurer with 135 and Phyllis Thompson, alternate with 125 freshman votes.

Students who worked on the election campaign were: Daniel Brewster, Frank Mizak, Ronald Wender, Pat Dasko and Daniel Ianiello.

NO BOMB FOUND—Bridgeport police and firemen searched in vain to find a "bomb" Monday night after they received a call that one was planted in the men's dorm. The 450 residents were evacuated from the building in three minutes and each student's room was searched. (Photo by Crown)

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY: Students earning all or part of their expenses by working on or off campus, achieve better grades than non-workers, a study undertaken by educator Frank C. Adams has revealed. The six-month study noted that over half of Southern's 9,000 enrollment fall into the worker category.

CENTRAL MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY: The U.N. Security Council in miniature, highlighted CMU's International Understanding Week, recently. The scaled-down council session was presented by four prominent guest speakers, and was an extension of CMU's annual "Courtesy Week," which seeks to promote understanding and courtesy toward all nations.

OHIO UNIVERSITY: "Skydiving" is the newest campus rage at Ohio. Freshman Tom Baldwin, has introduced the school to parachuting for fun and competition, and is currently sparking interest in a skydivers club. Jumps are made from 7000 feet; the chute opens at 2200.

UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT: An effective new method of promoting conversation between students at the student union, who normally refrain from 'mingling,' has been discovered. Under a new ruling, the juke box is shut off after 4 p. m., leaving no recourse but conversation.

UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT: 15 students armed with placards and pamphlets recently picketed the opening of the motion picture "Spartacus," protesting the fact that the writer, Dalton Trumbo, is an alleged Communist. Members of the "Young Americans for Freedom," the students picketed without knowledge or consent of university authorities. Trumbo was jailed for a year in 1950 for refusing to discuss possible Communist affiliations.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA: Six graduate students will be getting their education in prison this year. They haven't done anything, they're just studying prison rehabilitation for their degrees in social work.

UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT: "Silent Records" for lovers of peace and quiet, have made their appearance here. The student inspired Hush Label has added a number of noiseless political recordings to an assortment which already includes, "The Best Pauses from Twentieth Century Political Speeches". A "Silent Record Concert" last year, featured non-talking emcees, non-singing singers and 30 musicians playing "Anvil Chorus" with rubber hammers; and made money.

Council Accepts Great Dane

"PRINCE VALIANT" ACCEPTED AS MASCOT — After much publicity, "Prince Valiant", a Great Dane, has been accepted by the Student Council as the University's mascot. He is to be "self-sustained" through student contributions. (Purple Knight astride a Great Dane?)

BOOTERS END FINEST SEASON IN HISTORY — The University's soccer team, now in it's third year, "ended its finest season in history" with a 3-2-2 record. In their first season (1948), the team "proceeded to lose everything except the deed to Seaside Park." (How time does fly!)

N.Y. TO KLEIN VIA SHOW TRAIN — The 1950 edition of Campus Thunder is getting support from parents and alumni in New York. The gimmick: these people can buy a train ride (N.Y.-Bridgeport-N.Y.), round trip bus transportation to the show, back to the Bridgeport station and tickets to the show for only $3.60. (Minimum cost is now $6.00.)

UNIVERSITY RADIO PROGRAM — The University begins broadcasting on WNAB this Sunday. "Along Park Place" will include campus news of the week, and interviews with students or faculty members. (Should have progressed to TV by now.)

Student of the Week

James McGarry, a senior majoring in social studies, feels that the "businessmen and merchants in Bridgeport should take a more active interest in the students of the University." He feels they are not doing all they can to help the school both financially and otherwise.

"Helping the school is actually an investment as far as their businesses are concerned," states McGarry.

Jim, who is president of the Student Education Association, is glad to see that the faculty is taking part in the association's meetings.

He takes a definite stand on the five year education plan that is now being discussed. The plan is attempting to make five years of education compulsory before a person can enter the teaching field. McGarry noted that "A student's ideas and concepts change once he starts practice teaching. Five years in college does not make a difference for the professional attitude must come from within the person himself."

The SEA president is currently practice teaching at Johnson Junior High School in Stratford and will either teach in Connecticut when he graduates or continue studying for a master's degree.

Jim is from Tarrytown N.Y. and attended Stepinac High School in White Plains.

In addition to his being president of SEA, the largest organization on campus, Jim is also co-captain of the track team and a member of Circle K and the Newman Club.

SC Purchases Flag For Alumni Hall Pole

A 50 star flag has recently been purchased by the Student Council and presented to the Alumni Hall Board of Governors. The flag, which was the subject of much controversy during council meetings, was purchased by a special committee and presented to Eliot Mininberg, Governors representative to the Council. Jack Welles, chairman of the committee made the presentation.

Before deciding to purchase the flag, the issue was discussed between members of the council and the Board of Governors. It was decided that the Board would not purchase the flag, but wished to wait until the new student center was finished and buy a flag in proportion to the flag pole in front of that building. The main reason for the delay was that the flag pole in front of the new student center would be larger and a flag purchased for the Alumni Hall flag pole would not last long because of its size and the wind velocity.

Council members felt that the University was displaying antiquity by flying a 48 star flag. To them it was a matter of principle.

Prof. Salek Named Teacher Coordinator

Prof. Charles J. Salek has been made student-teacher coordinator and has been placed in charge of student-teacher placement for the College of Education. The purpose of this reorganization is to centralize the control of the placement of student teachers.

Starting next semester, Prof. Salek will assume the responsibility of director of the office of teacher placement. The office of teacher placement was organized and has been administered by Miss Martina Gilbert for the past several years.

Blood Donor Plaque Is Offered by IFC

Mike Choderoff, president of IFC, has announced that the IFC will donate a plaque to be put in the new Student Center.

The plaque will have the name of the fraternity or sorority that gives the greatest percentage of blood to the Bloodmobile on Dec. 14.

The contest will be held when the Bloodmobile comes here each fall. The IFC will also donate a thermometer to record the percentage of pledges given by fraternities and sororities as a group.

Students Feel Book Store Is Inadequate

DO YOU FEEL THAT THE BOOK STORE HAS SERVED YOU ADEQUATELY?

Bob Paul, a sophomore majoring in history.

No! Since the Book Store has been operating for a number of years, they should be able to estimate the amount of books needed to supply the students. Because of their inadequate supply the student is penalized by not being able to complete his assignments and possibly even by having to take a test before he has a book. This can hardly be called serving the student adequately.

Virginia Yurch, a freshman majoring in secretarial studies.

If the Book Store is maintained to serve students, I feel that they are doing an inadequate job of it. I have been unable to attain a book for a course in which I will soon be having a test. Because of that, I feel that I will not be able to pass the test.

Leon Beeler, a senior majoring in economics.

The University has had many years experience with the first two weeks of school and the great demand for books in those weeks and yet, in my four years here, nothing has been done to alleviate the long lines which form because of the inadequacy of the Book Store facilities.

Certainly, something can be done. Extra help could be hired for these two weeks, and the system of selling the books improved so that the crowds could be handled with ease. This has and will continue to become more severe due to the increasing enrollment.

Jack Stewart, a senior majoring in engineering.

I think their biggest mistake is that they do not seem to brief their help on procedures. They would be better organized if everyone knew how to price and find materials. The cashiers have to run around telling help where to find everything. If they were more willing to work with the students, instead of fighting them off, and if they would smile once in a while, it would make the whole process easier.

Sandy Sparling, a sophomore majoring in chemistry.

"The Book Store has always supplied me with books when I needed them. But, I do have a suggestion for them. When a professor says that he needs a certain number of books for a course, they should supply him with the books. Incidentally, their paper book selection is excellent."

Ralph Howe, a graduate student in education.

I think it has served me adequately. The prices are okay considering the price they must pay. It is a very handy place to have on campus.

Marcel Ringiva, a freshman majoring in biology.

It's so-so; it's mediocre for a college bookstore. Yes, I think some books are priced too high. I don't like the card system; they must think we are little kindergarten kids and have to write everything down. They need new sales girls because the present ones are too old.

Sue Kramer, a sophomore majoring in nursing.

I think that the bookstore has tried very hard to keep the necessary supplies for the needs of the average student. However, I do feel that with the growth of the campus the bookstore should expand their facilities and equip themselves with an adequate number of books to fill the growing demand.

Gordon Wagner, a senior majoring in marketing.

This is one University facility which has been improperly exploited. Regardless of the book pricing policy which I feel to be exorbitant, my basic objection is to the caliber of the help. I feel that personnel in student service should be courteous, cooperative and friendly; traits which very few of these employees possess. For this reason I have avoided frequenting the bookstore during my four years on campus. I am sorry to say that these sentiments are not peculiar to myself. This animosity should definitely be eradicated as soon as possible. I am surprised steps have not been taken previously since the University officials should be aware of this situation.

Carol Scherer, a sophomore majoring in education.

It has in most ways but I don't think it's efficient in that the lines are too long and the service is too slow. I think you should be able to smoke in the bookstore.

Rachel Rothchild, a junior majoring in French.

I think it should have more second hand books available. Service is extremely inadequate; they don't help you at all. I think hours are very limited. I realize they are operating on small premises, however, if the school grows, its facilities should also grow.

Trager, Serlin Win in Debate

The University debating team sparked by Omri Serlin, a senior majoring in electrical engineering, and Mark Trager a senior majoring in graphic arts, defeated Brooklyn College and St. Francis College at the Central Connecticut State College Tournament recently.

Taking the affirmative side of the topic; Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt a Program of Compulsory Health Insurance for all its Citizens, Trager and Serlin lost only to Holy Cross.

The negative University team, composed of Jon Penner, a sophomore majoring in English and Don Kaiser, a senior majoring in sociology was defeated by Fordham, Holy Cross and St. Francis College.

Other schools participating were; Wesleyan, Trinity College and the University of Connecticut.

TEA

Marion Hotchkiss, director of Alumni Hall has announced that a tea at which the seven candidates for Snowflake Queen will be chosen will take place on Saturday Dec. 3 in Alumni Hall lounge.

Selecting the candidates will be Mrs. James Halsey, Mr. and Mrs. William DeSiero, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Marcum and Mr. William Wright. The students will vote for the queen on Dec. 7 and 8.

TIME TO DO YOUR CHRISTMAS HINTING AND HUNTING!

What better way to get results than to head for Read's. We've cornered the market on Santa's most coveted gifts . . . and need we remind you that "a gift from Read's means more."

with JOHN CUPOLE

We trust that everyone had a pleasant, but not long enough Thanksgiving vacation. Many of us who were in dire need of a break really gave thanks for the timely Thanksgiving recess.

We know of course, that everyone enjoyed a fine Thanksgiving dinner whether they ate it or drank it. Now that the recess is over and we have talked a little "turkey", let's get back into action.

This week has big happenings in store for us. Tonight the Purple Knights will meet Maryland State at home in a test of basketball ability. Friday night, the Hillel Retreat begins; Friday will also mark the opening night for the finest entertainment that ever hit Bridgeport, Campus Thunder, produced by Albert A. Dickason our most capable dramatist.

Friday night will also witness an open dance sponsored by A.D.O. which among other things will feature a chug-a-lug contest with appropriate prizes. Saturday, we will face Brandeis at home in our second basketball match of the season.

A note of congratulations, to the newly initiated sisters of Theta Epsilon among whom were; Judy Basmajian, Barbara Bertany, Beth Bohn, Rosemary Conte, Roberta D'Aiuto, Marianne Fasulo, Phyllis Goldman, Janet Heinrich, Johann Dudak, Sharon McCarthy, Gail Minty, Barbara Yasinski, and (whew!) Louise Ziko who received the customary outstanding pledge award.

Congrats to Cindy Gelbard of PDR and Bob Kaplan C.C.N.Y. who were recently pinned. Heather Carpenter is still trying to shake off those "butterflies". Pledgemasters of TE, Joan Flynn and Donna Sellick found themselves in the men's room at the Seawall when they were captured and abandoned by their pledges.

The brothers of SOS proudly announce the acceptance of nine new brothers who were formally initiated at the Stratfield Hotel Sunday before last. The new brothers include the following: Ira Weinstein, Howie Kolinski, Art Shatlas, Harvey Wiles, Garry Schwager, Richard Alten, Art Katz, Harry Sasslow and Ron Costa.

"Pledge of the week" honors went to Harvey Wiles, SOS, nice work Mr. Wonderful, Mr. Pledgemaster, Mr. Chancellor, Mr. Metrecal, et tout.

Congratulations to Gale Werman of PDR and Jeff Spitalnik of SLX who recently became plimates. Chi Sigma Delta wishes to announce their officers for the year. Among the leaders of the girls in red are Joan Meyers, president; Marian Szekeres, vice president; Gloria Centron, recording secretary; Yolanda Simko, corresponding secretary; Stephanie Tomasko, treasurer and Rosemary Auletta, pledgemaster.

It isn't the scenery alone that has been bringing Robin Altieri to Danbury two or three times a week. The SIG pledges elevated SIG in the eyes of the public by performing some useful tasks throughout the community. A salute to SIG.

Hats off also to our BG girls who are aiding a local needy family. Congrats to the new brothers of TS: Master John MacDonald, Master Dennis Paulin and Master Robert Becker. TS edged out IDP by a score of 2-0 in a football game at Seaside Park Sunday afternoon. Flashing for IDP were Tom Minotti, Bob Werman, Frank the "Tank" Mizak, while for the victors Dave Ekstrom and Jack MacDonald starred.

A three-year old child was injured in a hit-and-run accident on Myrtle Ave. just short of Park Place. The accident occurred on Nov. 8 just before 4 p.m. If you witnessed the accident, please contact Dr. Alfred Wolff, director of Student Personnel.

THE VARSITY SOCCER TEAM recently concluded another victorious season under the direction of Coach John McKeon. The booters defeated Coast Guard 2-1 in their final outing to finish with a 7-1-1 record. The squad missed the NCAA nomination because both their loss and tie were league contests.

Cagers Face Maryland In First Game Tonight

by Marty Riger

The University varsity basketball team will open the 1960-61 season 8:30 p.m. tonight against a strong Maryland State team at the Gym.

Gus Seaman, who took over the reins from Dr. Herbert Glines, will have the task of rebuilding the predominately sophomore team. Gone from the scene are Bob Laemel, all-time high scorer at UB, Ed Wysocki, leading rebounder the last three years, Joe Colletto, Bob Lazar, Bill Daragh, Dick Whitcomb, Ev Hart and this year's frosh coach, Don Feeley.

Joe Yasinski is the only returning starter from last year's team which placed second in the tri-state league. Yasinski will be counted on very highly by Coach Seaman this year. He has been scoring very well in pre-season scrimmages and is also the leading rebounder of the club.

Also returning for his third varsity season is backcourt man, Tom Lipkowitz. Lipkowitz is the possessor of a fine shooting eye and should be seeing a lot of action this year. Dan Morello is another returnee from last year's team. Nicknamed "garbage man" by his teammates, because of the baskets he picks up underneath, Morello is probably the best shooter on the squad.

Returning to the basketball scene at UB after a one year "sabbatical" is Richie Khentigan. Khentigan also possesses a fine shooting eye and is the field general of the club.

Coming up from last year's freshman team are Harvey Herer, Jerry Feldman, Roger Trupin, Fred Schack, Roy Robins, Doug Holmquest, Joe Troiano, Jim Sullivan and Don Bolk.

Of these, Schack and Herer look as if they may be among the starting five tonight.

The team, in my mind, must run, and run and run some more in order to compile a respectable record. With Yasinski being the tallest member of the squad at six foot four inches, the Knights will be limited to one or two shots on the offensive backboard. Yasinski will probably receive some help from Schack, who is only six foot one inch, but jumps like he was six foot six inches. The other "big men" are Feldman, Trupin, Sullivan and Bolk. All four of these men can develop into fine ball players but as of now they are untried in varsity competition.

If the opposition gives the backcourt men room, they may "shoot their eyes" out. Khentigan, Lipkowitz, Morello, Troiano, Herer and Holmquest can all score well and if played tight can drive very well.

Coach Seaman will employ a three-two offense. Two men in the corners and three on the outside. The middle will be open because of the lack of the "real" big man. They will use a lot of picks and screens and try to drive up the middle.

The visitors, Maryland State Teachers College, are now on a barnstorming tour of the East. Last year they were knocked off by the Knights after winning their first four in a row. They are big, and they'll be gunning to avenge last year's setback.

If the Purple Knights run and press, they will give Maryland State a tough ball game. I see the hoopsters taking it on the chin in their season opener by 15 points.

Booters Conclude Season

by Jim Hill

A very successful 7-1-1 record this season has boosted Coach John McKeon's total to 58 wins, 16 losses and three ties in eight years of coaching soccer at the University. Coach McKeon has never suffered a losing season.

John Majesko, a standout at the inside left position, turned in his second season in a row as UB's high scorer. He had 12 goals for nine games, plus four assists. Hans Zucker, All-American last year and a co-captain for the 1960 season, hit the net six times and assisted with five other goals.

Bob Dikranian, speedy right wing, also scored six times, and his brilliant passing was responsible for four additional tallies. Jack Coogan hit five times and assisted twice in four games.

Jon Olson and co-captain Jim Kuhlman each scored two, with Olson also assisting twice. The two Pauls, Peszynski and Feeley, each hit once, and Al Churilla, Bob Milikin and Harry Dindsor had one assist apiece.

The Purple Knights scored 36 goals, exactly four times as many as their opponents. Even though this averages out to four goals per game, the Knights hit five or more times in 56 per cent of their games and there were 23 assists in all.

After a couple of preliminary practice games, the booters opened up against Trenton State College. The Trentonites showed plenty of spirit, but were no match for the onslaught from UB. Four of the five men in the Knights' forward wall hit in the first half to put the game on ice.

The Knights met Fairleigh-Dickinson University at home and outplayed them to the tune of 3-0, on scores by Coogan, Zucker and Kuhlman. Jack Coogan sparked the offense with consistent speed and hustle, and Bill Brew did the same for the defense.

On Oct. 11, UB played host to this season's New England champs, the University of Connecticut and slaughtered them with two goals apiece by Majesko, Zucker and Coogan. UConn was only able to squeeze two shots past Bridgeport's star backstop, Fred Mayer.

In their third home game in a row, the Knights took on Boston University and did the same thing to them they did to UConn. It was hardly a contest as Majesko scored twice, and Quigley, Olsen, Zucker and Coogan each hit the twines once to make it four wins in as many encounters.

John Majesko hit three times to lead the Purple Knights to a 7-1 victory over the University of Hartford. The Hartford men showed fine spirit, and the outstanding play of their goalie was all that kept the score from going higher. Dikranian, Zucker, Feeley and Olsen each scored once, and Nick Worth's strong left foot was very influential in keeping the ball on the offense's half of the field.

The Yale game was a different story. It was evident from the beginning that this would be a battle from start to finish. Yale drew first blood and Majesko retaliated for UB in the second period. From then on it looked like the game might run for several days without any score. With only 13 seconds left, Yale got the break that made the difference on a handball and the resulting penalty shot, and it ended in favor of the Eli's.

Led by Bob Dikranian, who scored four of the Knights' six goals, the Purple and White came right back to shut the teachers from Albany State completely out of the scoring column. Majesko also scored once, and Paul Pysinski hit with the sixth and final goal of the day.

On Nov. 5, the Purple Knights again ran up against Yale-like brick wall in the persons of the Maroons of Springfield College. Both teams threatened several times, but the defenses successfully broke up every challenge thrown at them. Tasso Chirogian is provided that extra little drive that kept the boys hustling and set up the wall that turned back the Maroon attacks. After 88 minutes of regular play and two five minute overtimes, the game ended as it had begun, 0-0.

In the final game of the season, UB met the Cadets of Coast Guard and just squeezed by on two goals by Majesko to win 2-1. Pat Quigley assisted with the final Purple and White goal, and provided the extra hustle that enabled the Knights to win it in the last three minutes.

The boys on the bench don't get too much recognition, but it is their effort, after coming into the game cold, that often provides the fresh spirit needed to turn defeat into victory. Playing consistently fine games whenever they were called on were Al Churilla, Harry Windsor, Bob Milikin, Frank Lester, Bruce Johnson, Joel Goldberg, Paul Feeley and Bob McCullagh.

Tasso Chirogianis, Jack Coogan, Hans Zucker, Jim Kuhlman, John Majesko, Jon Olsen, Harry Windsor, Bob McCullagh and Paul Feeley will all be graduating, and each and every one of the men will be greatly missed in 1961. These are the men everybody had such high expectations for four years ago, and to say that they have lived up to these expectations is the understatement of the year.

You have probably heard that UConn was selected as the New England representative for this year's NCAA tournament. Even though UB smashed UConn they are still this season's New England champs. Why? Didn't they lose two games this season? They did lose two, and we only lost one, but only one of their losses was a league contest. Both our loss and tie were league contests.

UConn's league record was 10-1; UB's 4-1-1. In my opinion, it all boils down to the fact that this University is considered a low prestige school by some of the schools we play. They are afraid of the "shame" if we beat them, and in many cases they can predict that we will beat them. For this reason we don't get the number of league games we should have. However, it can be advantageous to play fewer games — if you win them all.

Arnold College is sponsoring its annual Recruitment Day for high school girls today, beginning at 1 p.m. About 50 girls who intend to make physical education their major will participate in the planned activities.
